Teaching Philosophy

Education is the basic instrument which leads the path towards bright future, prosperity, survival and development of a nation, hence, a teacher is publically called the builder of a nation. Being an important element of the nation, a teacher should create positive learning environment for promoting intellectual diversity and develop strong pedagogies with the knowledge to set high academic standards for students. It is also the responsibility of a teacher to set specific and clear expectations, standards and goals to rise their potentials in responding the challenges of modern era.

Vision

During course of my legal education, I put in my mind to join the noble profession of teaching as I was greatly influenced by my mentors and also some colleagues, who join this profession. In a democratic country like Pakistan, legal education is the heart and the very soul of the society for administering rule of law. The legal education should be able to meet the Some objectives which I have set in my mind are: (1) To impart quality legal education taking into consideration the changing needs of the society and in the changing era of globalization, (2) To abreast the students with the ever growing demands of the society and equipped them to cater to the complexities of different situations (3) to create positive learning environment in the class rooms, (4) setting clear expectations, standards and goals for the students, (5) differentiated instruction through modifications, and (6) presenting a variety of learning materials to all students.

Objective

Seeking a %challenging career opportunity within distinct organization that provides a motivating environment and opportunities for career development. I aim at utilizing my knowledge and skills effectively and efficiently.
